Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to amended claims 20-23 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 20-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the combination of Lenihan et al. (US 6,169,843) and Hirabayashi et al. (US 6,002,834), as previously applied, and further in view of Yamauchi et al. (US 6,047,103).

The examiner incorporates the last action against the claims, wherein as amended including the limitation of:

- a/the management area further comprising, first copy management information and
- a/the data area further comprising, second copy management information.

Art Unit: 2621

Yamauchi teaches having a management area with first copy management information (Fig. 2, Header Region, "CGMS Control Data") and data area with second copy management (Fig. 2, User Data in a user data region and authentication at step S109, based on step S107 using CGMS and User Data or first and second copy management data, col. 13 and col. 16, lines 49-, CGMS, management data of Fig. 2, and "user data of the sector", or CGMS management data (Table) against user data of the sector, comparing two copy management elements output of comparison indicating a copy right state of the media, as taught by Yamauchi.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to those skilled in the art at the time of the invention to modify the combination by providing first and second copy management information, one management region/regions and user region/region having CGMS Table in the management area/areas and the corresponding code in the user region, thereby determining copy restriction type, one copy or prohibited or not (permitted), as taught by Yamauchi, thereby providing a copy protection mechanism with respect to data structures, protecting copyrighted material from non authorized use, as is conventionally known in the art.

Conclusion

2. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
